Welcoming Message

Rising to the Global Challenge: IASSW, ICSW and IFSW Join Hands to Build an Agenda for the Next Decade

The International Association of Schools of Social Work (IASSW), the International Council on Social Welfare (ICSW), and the International Federation of Social Workers (IFSW) share a common heritage. We all see growing social problems and human injustices worldwide. We know we must work together to ensure that the voice of social development and social work is heard in this crisis. Our conferences provide a focus for our campaigns. We have decided to hold joint biennial conferences and the first will be in Hong Kong from 10th to 14th June 2010. The title of the conference is: "2010 Joint World Conference on Social Work and Social Development: the Agenda".

We plan to orchestrate a global consultation process involving social workers and social development advocates at all levels and from all countries, to identify key issues for our cause, to develop our agenda, to enhance social protection, and to set our priorities for the second decade of the 21st century as we face up to the social crises of the 21st century.

Global co-operation

IASSW, ICSW and IFSW decided to work more closely together some years ago. This collaboration has been enhanced as we plan this first joint conference. During 2008, leaders of the three organizations met in London, Tours, Durban and Salvador to develop plans for global consultations in preparation for the Hong Kong conference. We aim to make the Hong Kong process truly global. Every country and region will be actively engaged in the global dialogue and priority shaping process.

After the Hong Kong conference, and taking account of the conference outcomes, our three organizations will make decisions which will shape our future individual and shared priorities. This has never happened before and is a truly unique and exciting process. However it will only work if local and national organizations seize the opportunity to participate and make it work. Watch out for information on our web site and start your thinking now.

With our Hong Kong colleagues, we cordially invite you to join the journey, building a new action agenda, a new direction and shared priorities for social work and social development; the key words are "empower", "renew", "synergy". Join us in Hong Kong in 2010 and influence the world in which you live and work!

2010 Joint World Conference on Social Work and Social Development: The Agenda

The Conference offers a unique platform for more than 2,000 professionals, academics, practitioners, social planners, policy makers and advocates from East and West to meet, exchange, and develop an action agenda for social work and social development in the next decade.

We invite you to be part of the process of envisioning and shaping the agenda, to set the questions, to start the debates, and to:

- Share new knowledge and skills, document best practice and development strategies, promote evidence-based practice and empower each other in the pursuit of quality, excellence and innovation in practice and advocacy of social development and social work;
- Create learning opportunities as well as forums to expand the dialogue to find new solutions or new roles for the profession to meet the changing needs and problems;
- Lead the global debate, engage global institutions and create synergies among professionals to lead the global agenda for people-centered sustainable social progress.

Conference Themes

Discussions on Practice, Policy and Education cut across the following 3 themes and 25 sub-themes in formulating "The Agenda". The emphasis is on the systematic application and generation of knowledge and intervention to result in evidence-based outcome in social work and social development.

I. Life Course Challenges & Actualization

Social work is becoming more complex and varied in different cultures. Social workers in encounters with clients are impacted by the changing environment and social processes. The various histories of social work defines its nature to work with clients to handle challenges at different life courses which has been modified and transformed as a result of social changes in the past decades. Knowledge and practice of social workers have also been changed. In this theme of the conference, challenges and opportunities in child welfare, adolescence and youth development, family and marriage, women and gender issues, active aging and long term care and mental health issues will be explored. Evidence-based practices, research and policy intervention at local, national and international level will be addressed.

Sub-themes

- Child Welfare
- Adolescence & Youth Development
- Family & Marriage
- Women and Gender Issues
- Active Aging & Long Term Care
- Mental Health Issues

II. Equity & Social Inclusion

Equity, diversity, social protection and inclusion principles and policies have been adopted to reduce poverty, unemployment and marginalization. How effective are such initiatives and intervention in promoting social development and what can be done to demonstrate their achievements? Human capital investment and social capital development, poverty eradication and social security, anti-oppressive practice and embracing diversity are attempts to address issues in varying. Evidence-based practices, research and policy intervention at local, national and international level will be addressed with implications on social development and post the current global financial crisis.

Sub-themes

- Education & Life-long Learning, Asset-Building & Social Mobility
- Employment, Migrant Worker & Decent Work
- Poverty Eradication & Social Security
- Embracing Diversity & Inclusion
- Deviance, Addiction & Gambling
- Violence, Crime & Human Trafficking

III. Sustainable Environment

Creating a sustainable environment has become one of the major challenges for researchers, scholars and practitioners across many disciplines. This theme explores the interplay of multiple, complex forces that bring rapid transformation in and far-reaching impacts on our natural, social and economic environment. As well, it discusses locally and globally integrated policy solutions and current innovative professional practices in environments, health, population movements, disaster management, housing, rural-urban resettlement, community development and preservation, corporate social responsibility, civil society, self-help movements, and planning of welfare. The discussion would contribute to the creation, accountability, resourcing management, protection, restoration, enhancement and conservation of a sustainable environment to uphold social justice, harmony and well being.

Sub-themes

- Globalization, Population Movement & Economic Instability
- Sustained Health & Self-management
- Disasters Management & Environmental change
- Shelter, Housing & Urban/ Rural Population Resettlement
- Community Development, Conservation & Preservation (Physical, Social, Cultural)
- Philanthropy, Corporate Social Responsibility, Partnership, Social Capital & Civil Society
- Users Participation & Self-help Movement
- Financing & Planning of Welfare
- Teaching, Learning & Practice: Integration Social Work Education
- Indigenous & Cultural Sensitive Practice
- Influence & Advocacy, Professional Commitment & Values
- Knowledge Management, Model Building & Evidence-based Research
- Innovation & New Technology (R & D)

Any topics outside of the above mentioned sub-themes may also be submitted for consideration.

Official Language

All Keynote and Plenary Sessions and most of the Parallel Sessions will be conducted in English. Simultaneous interpretation for English, French, Spanish and Chinese (Putonghua) will be provided in all Keynote and Plenary Sessions as well as in some Parallel Sessions.

Keynote Speaker

Mr. Sha Zukang (沙祖康先生)

United Nations Under-Secretary-General for Economic and Social Affairs

Mr. Sha heads the Department of Economic and Social Affairs (DESA), responsible for promoting and supporting international cooperation to achieve development for all. The DESA assists governments in agenda-setting and decision-making on development issues at global level, and translating global commitments (including Millennium Development Goals) into national policies and action. The DESA also works closely with the civil society enabling their participation in major international economic and social summits and other DESA events.

Mr. Sha also chairs the United Nations Executive Committee on Economic and Social Affairs.

Call for Abstracts

You are invited to submit abstracts on topics related to the Conference theme and sub-themes for presentation in the Conference. Other than oral and poster / video presentations, other formats could also be accepted – please specify on the abstract.

Deadline for Abstract Submission:
30 November 2009

General Information

1. Abstracts should be original in nature and have not been previously published in any form, such as journal article or conference presentation.
2. Submission of more than one abstract from a single participant is permissible.
3. All Conference presenters must register for the Conference and pay the registration fee for their presentation to be included into the final programme.
4. All participants who have submitted abstracts are eligible to apply for Scholarships for Participants from Developing Countries and Best Abstract Awards.
5. For details about format for abstract submission, please visit the Conference website: www.swsd2010.org.

Methods of Abstract Submission

1. Online Submission at www.swsd2010.org is the preferred mode of abstract submission.
2. Non-Online Submission: For those who are not able to access the internet, they can request for the "Abstract Submission Form" by completing the Enquiry Form on page 11 and return it to the Conference Secretariat by mail, fax or email. For enquiries, please contact the Conference Secretariat at abstract@swsd2010.org.

Confirmation of Receipt of Abstract

Confirmation will be sent to the email address indicated on the Abstract Submission form within one month of the receipt of the submitted abstract. A Reference Number will be assigned to each submitted abstract. Please quote this number in all correspondences with the Conference Secretariat. If you receive no confirmation within one month of Abstract Submission, please check with the Secretariat.

Abstract Review, Selection and Publication

1. All abstracts will be peer-reviewed by the Sub-theme Coordinators. A paper may be accepted for oral presentation or poster session.
2. Abstracts submitted before the deadline and accepted for presentation will be published in the proceedings of the Conference.

For each of the 25 sub-themes, two best abstracts with outstanding academic and professional merits will be awarded for each category of participants, and the main author will be waived half of the registration fee.

Deadline for Application:
30 November 2009

Presentation & Publication

While the awards will be presented during the Conference, winners will be selected prior to it by a selection committee. The winning abstracts / papers may be selected for inclusion in a special Conference Publication. The authors of the winning papers will be requested to make presentation in the Conference.

Award Criteria

- a) Relevance: topic is relevant to the theme / sub-themes of the Conference
- b) Knowledge Contribution: Abstract builds and expands on the previous work/literature/theories
- c) Innovativeness: The material shared is up-to-date, innovative, and will lead to future advancement in social work and social development
- d) Clarity: Abstract is clearly presented and includes all essential information
- e) The selection committee reserves the rights to select less than 2 best abstracts for certain categories of the sub-themes. The decision of the selection committee is final.

Notification of the Selection Result

All applicants will be informed about the final result before 15 January 2010.

Application Method

Please indicate on the Abstract Submission Form which is available at www.swsd2010.org and return the Form to the Conference Secretariat online, by mail, fax or email on or before 30 November 2009. Online application is highly appreciated. For enquiries, please contact the Conference Secretariat at info@swsd2010.org.

Scholarship for Participants from Developing Countries

One of the major objectives of this Conference is to promote international exchange among participants from different cultures. The Organizers believe that professionals from many developing countries where different rich cultural heritages are present will be able to contribute their local ideas, knowledge and practice experiences to the Conference. The captioned scholarship scheme is therefore set up to finance potential participants from developing countries who can contribute to the conference but are in need of financial support in order to make those contributions.

Deadline for Application:
30 November 2009

Eligibility Criteria of Applicant

The applicant must:

- be citizens of developing countries and at the time of application be living and working in those countries;
- have demonstrated ability to contribute to the Conference, with priorities given to applicants who have submitted an abstract or proposal of presentation;
- not be receiving other awards or scholarships from the Conference Organizers.

Responsibilities of Selected Applicants

The selected applicants must:

- participate in the event fully;
- be responsible for traveling, accommodation and all other expenses which are not covered by the scholarship awarded by the Conference Organizers.

Selection

An independent selection panel will be formed to award scholarships of varying amount to different qualified applicants who can demonstrate their ability to contribute to the Conference. Applicants should expect that the scholarship will only cover some of the expenses and fees and should note that grants will be released by reimbursement. The screening process will start in December 2009. The selection panel will exercise discretionary power to award scholarships to some special cases who cannot meet the eligibility criteria.

Notification of the Selection Result

All applicants will be informed about the final decision before the end of January 2010.

Application Method

Please complete the "Application Form for Scholarships for Developing Countries" which is available at www.swsd2010.org and return to the Conference Secretariat online, by mail, fax or email on or before 30 November 2009. For enquiries, please contact the Conference Secretariat at info@swsd2010.org.

In compliance with the Personal data (Privacy) Ordinance, all personal details will be kept in strict confidence.

We need your Contribution to support more participants from developing countries to attend the conference.
Please use the Donation Form on page 10.
